

Life is an aggregate of strategies

Title of the training : Developing Strategic outlook, Wisdom and Foresight

Description of the Topic :

How to develop a strategic outlook. How tactical plans help build a full proof strategic plan. How to plan for future strategies on probabilities. How to develop foresight. How to look for perspectives. How to create new perspectives. How to implement strategic plan. How some strategic plans should be planned in advance as contingency plan. How some resources can be envisaged which will take place on the basis of future probabilities.

How participants will benefit after the course :

- It helps Executives/Managers to foresee opportunities or crisis
- It helps Executives/Managers to prepare contingency plan/s
- It helps participants to understand how certain Companies survive while some others perish
- How a Company's strategic plan can help take mid course corrections during its journey
- Why strategy is not only necessary to excel but also to survive

Session wise outline :

- In simple terms strategic outlook is to foresee something which does not feature at that point in time
- Wisdom and foresight are two sides of the same coin
- Possibilities and probabilities of happenings
- How strategic outlook can help us tackle unforeseen situations

Mission requirement : Open mindedness and willingness to challenge one's own boundaries and leveraging one's own capabilities to create and recreate wonders.

Surajit Roy

*Business Consultant cum Trainer with international exposure
Individual Consultant for ADB (Asian Development Bank)*

